10cm (4") pots £1.59 4 for £5.99

Hardy Fuchsias should be planted in the ground, after all danger of frost has ceased; in order that they may become established during the summer.

In the autumn, before the onset of winter frosts, they should be mulched around the base with materials such as leaf-mould, garden compost, peat, straw, manure etc. to protect their roots from freezing.

Hardy Fuchsias grown in containers may not survive the winter if left outside, as the whole pot could freeze and damage the roots.

The varieties marked with an asterisk ( * ) are only hardy in Southern England in a sheltered position.

Sunpatiens Varieties An excellent larger variety having more vigorous growth. Flowers up to 2" across! Plants 24" high and up to 36" spread. Tolerates full sun or shade, even indoors as a flowering pot plant. Extremely versatile, exotic plant, for the patio or a spectacular subject for mass bedding. Colours - Lavender, Magenta, Pink, Orange, Red or White. Dark foliage.

- F1 Impatien Varieties for bedding. Sold in modular trays of 24 for just £5.29
  - Shimmer. An excellent all rounder. Great for baskets, tubs, flower towers and borders.
  - Blitz. Taller, more vigorous strain. Flowers up to 2" across. Not suitable for baskets. But great for mass bedding and large containers.
- Available through the season in 14 separate colours or mixed !

Important note regarding IMPATIEN HYBRIDS (Busy Lizzies)

Due to the mutant strains of Downy Mildew that affected these varieties in gardens last season we will not be growing Spellbound (trailing) or Silhouette (double) Impatiens until more resistant varieties are introduced. Please refer to the comments on our web site. As not all customers encountered problems with the bedding Impatiens we will be growing a small quantity available as mini-plugs or trays of 24. Please note that NEW GUINEA types were NOT affected

THE ITALIAN PLANT

We have a great collection of specimen plants grown in the heart of Italy where the intense Mediterranean Sun hardens the growth and the winters regularly get down to minus 10c. This ensures they all are hardy to plant here !

From Cloud trees, spirals and standards, to large palms and magnolias. Capping them all are magnificent Olive trees, over 100 year old and look like life size Bonsai—priced at £1500 ! Don't panic, we also have Olives from £40 !

Also a great selection of mature climbers on 2mt canes, Wisteria, Clematis, Honeysuckle, Trachelospermum Jasminoides, etc.... from £20.

We also stock a few top brand products to make life easier :-

- 'Osmocote' slow release fertiliser plugs - 8 for £1.20 50 for £6.50 100 for £12 (still the best!)
